

Contributor Agreement

1. I will not divulge any communication with Pulpit & Pen or any of its regular contributors. I will not post screenshots, excerpts, photos, or transcripts of any communications in any venue including direct messages, emails, instant messaging, or others. I will hold all communication with Pulpit & Pen as utmost confidential.
2. I will not use access to passwords to website or any social media accounts contrary to the desires of the website or social media account owner. Neither will I change passwords or deny access to Pulpit & Pen accounts.
3. All materials submitted to Pulpit & Pen for publication shall remain the intellectual property of Pulpit & Pen. Keeping it on the website shall be at the sole discretion of Pulpit & Pen.
4. Any controversy or claim in relation to this agreement shall be limited to arbitration with elders of mutual churches moderating the arbitration process.
5. I do and will not operate an anonymous social media account from which I attack others.
6. I understand that there is a minimum 90-day waiting period before acceptance as a full contributor to Pulpit & Pen. During this period I will not refer to myself as a “contributor” to Pulpit & Pen. I have the understanding that my posts shall be considered “guest posts,” and it is solely up to Pulpit & Pen to decide my status as a contributor.
7. The terms of this agreement may be altered at the sole discretion of Pulpit & Pen and this agreement may be terminated at any time at the sole discretion of Pulpit & Pen.
8. I understand that I must be an active and participating member of the Pulpit Bunker Facebook group. I must be ready and willing to engage and defend my writing against reasonable opposition.

Signature

Date